

Marti Gallucci
Design Director, Mason Studio

Marti Gallucci is a design director at Mason Studio leading local and international projects, spanning from retail to exhibition to hospitality. She brings an understanding of the importance of spaces to create meaningful human experiences. In addition to her work, Marti volunteered with the ARIDO Student committee for several years and recently led a studio course for her alma mater, the Toronto Metropolitan University (formerly Ryerson University) School of Interior Design.
