

Michele Sigurdson

Principal at DIALOG

Michele Sigurdson heads DIALOG's national interior design discipline and leads the Vancouver and Edmonton studios' interior design teams. She believes that inspiring interior design is fundamental to creating holistic spaces that meld function with imagination, improve health and wellbeing, and respect diversity, fostering a true sense of belonging and stewardship.

Michele is NCIDQ certified and is a Registered Interior Designer with the Interior Designers Institute of BC and Interior Designers of Canada. Throughout her 26 years at DIALOG – including 14 years as a Partner – Michele's dynamic leadership has resulted in inspiring and award-winning spaces that embody the clients' needs, aspirations, brand, and vision. Moving seamlessly between all building types, complexities, and scales, Michele delivers engaging and sustainable design solutions across a range of sectors while successfully reinforcing the urban, building, and community context. The result is fresh and diverse spaces with one common goal; for humans to thrive.
